

ProHub for Applicants

ProHub allows you to build a detailed profile and post documents, credentials, and much more about yourself, so employers can review more than just a resume and cover letter. You can also search job openings or projects for freelancers by area or occupation and job type.

ProHub's Value:

- ✓ Unlimited document and credential storage for sending your profile online.
- ✓ Save time by searching jobs and send your profiles directly to the hiring managers with just one click. No more on-line applications.
- ✓ Ever wonder where your application goes? We offer application tracking that will monitor whether the hiring manager opened your profile or is interested in you.
- ✓ Your profile is in our database by occupation and job type for employers to search for and contact you directly.
- ✓ Have a Job? Don't miss an opportunity! Keep your profile up-to-date and get notified if a new opening is posted that fits your talents. Don't miss an opportunity.

Learn more about ProHub

Define who you are as a talented and potential employee. Employers have no other choices in today's marketplace but to look at resumes, online applications and social media networks.

With ProHub, employers can view your qualifications, credentials, training, and experience with great depth. They can search for you without even posting a position by looking for your skills, education, occupation, desired positions, and area.

Jobs markets are also changing with on-demand employment, contract for hire, and freelance work.

ProHub allows you to select the type of work you are looking for and helps employers reach out on a moment's notice.
